Classes Pick Candidates For Queen

By BRUCE GRUBER
Staff Reporter

Eight women from each class were selected Monday to run for queen of their respective classes in the forthcoming Homecoming Queen election.

In the senior class, a small turnout of 50 seniors chose as their candidates: (votes in parentheses) Sandra Boll, Ironton, Ohio (32); Mary Hanna, Charleston (44); Barbara Johnson, Ironton (40); Beverly Lowe, Williamson (32); Libby McLean, Chesapeake (35); Sally Montgomery, Huntington (36); Katherine Pierce, Charleston (35); and Sandra Roush, New Haven (38).

Betty Bick, Huntington, with 31 votes, was the nearest competitor to the winning candidates. A total of 14 senior women were nominated.

There were nine candidates elected to run for Junior Class Queen, due to a two-way tie for eighth place.

The candidates are: (votes in parentheses) Joan Cooley, Huntington (41); Nancy Cunningham, Whitesville (35); Saralee Minnis, Weirton (35); Elaine Moren, Huntington (31); Jane Ramella, Welch

(34); Louise Shumate, Huntington (33); Dixie Lee Ward, Iaeger (31); Ruth Ann Teets, Gassaway (50); and Virginia Wise, Jasper, Fla. (45).

Approximately 65 juniors participated in the class queen nominations.

The candidates for Sophomore Class Queen are: (votes in parentheses) Alice Baker, Gassaway (49); Mary Beck, Charleston (41); Linda Brown, Matewan (46); Mary Chafin, Huntington (41); Betty Puryear, Logan (47); Sandra Sandy, Cowen (46); Norma Rose, Rainelle (53); and Suzanne Tamplin, Madison (50).

Nearly 100 sophomores turned out to vote for their class queen candidates.

The eight freshmen candidates for Freshman Class Queen are: (votes in parentheses) Judy Johnson, Huntington (83); Sharon Haselip, Huntington (68); Katherine Merritt, Belle (63); Joyce Jarrett, Nitro (55); Dixie Walker, Ripley (54); Ann Burton, Huntington (52); Pam Butler, Glenwood (51); and Johanna Jackson, Nitro (50).

Total number of freshmen voting was about 150.

Homecoming Queen Election will be held Wednesday, Nov. 4, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. The polling place has not yet been determined.

The Election Commission is headed by its chairman, Roslyn Harman, Huntington senior.

Senate Names 11 As Monitors For Cafeteria

By BRUCE GRUBER
Staff Reporter

Eleven students will make up the cafeteria monitor system and a student court will hear the cases.

However, a period of orientation will precede the actual enforcement of the Student Senate's newly-approved system for patrolling cafeteria line-breaking violations.

Any person caught line-cutting or permitting line-cutting will be issued a ticket.

First offenders will be given a stern warning by the court. Second offenders will have their cafeteria privilege revoked with the unused portion of the meal book refunded. The third offense involves a student court recommendation to the personnel deans that an individual be placed on social probation because he violated the court order prohibiting the use of the cafeteria.

Dance Ticket Sale Moving Fast Here

Ticket sales are moving at a good clip for the Homecoming Dance to be held November 7 at Memorial Field House.

After one day's sales, over 70 tickets had been sold, the Student Government Office reported. There are only 900 tickets to be sold to the Student Body, and when these tickets are gone there will be no more. It has been stressed that students should buy their tickets early, and avoid the last minute rush and the chance of not being able to secure a ticket.

Political Facts Aim Of Campus Pollsters

A representative sample of the entire student body was taken and results indicate of those claiming party attachment, there are twice as many Democrats as twice as many Democrats as Republicans. This is much higher than the U.S. population as a whole.

Out of the suggested Democratic candidates, John Kennedy was preferred 2 to 1 over Adlai Stevenson, but was only preferred by one-half of all persons with Democratic nominee preference. Out of the suggested Republican candidates, Richard Nixon was preferred 2 to 1 over Nelson Rockefeller, but there was a large no opinion vote on the Republican candidates.

Two Democrats out of three would prefer their Republican candidates over a non-preferred Democrat. Four out of five Republicans would prefer their Democratic choice over a non-preferred Republican.

In view of these two facts, does this mean Democrats are less prone to vote for the "man and not the party" than Republicans?

The final results, when released, will tentatively answer these and other questions created by the poll.

Well-Known Painter Will Talk Here

Grant Reynard, widely-known painter and lecturer, will present a demonstration of painting in Old Main auditorium at 11 a.m. tomorrow.

Mr. Reynard's unique lecture will include a demonstration of traditional and abstract painting. He will paint two pictures simultaneously while speaking on the subject, "Enjoyment of Paintings, Old and New".

Mr. Reynard was born in Grand Island, Nebraska, and devoted his early life to the study of piano and composition. Later he relinquished his music in favor of art. He attended the Art Institute and Academy in Chicago, painted in France and England, and studied paintings, etchings, and lithography.

Mr. Reynard has presented seven one-man shows in New York. His work is included among the permanent collections of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the Fogg Museum at Harvard University, DeYoung Museum in San Francisco, New York Public Library, Newark Art Museum, New Jersey State Museum, Montclair Art Museum, and the Library of Congress.

Art Committee President of the Montclair, N. J., Art Museum, Mr. Reynard is also an associate member of the National Academy of Design, life member of the American Water Color Society, and a member of the Society of American Graphic Artists.

The award of an honorary Doctor of Humane Letters degree was made by Mr. Reynard by Baldwin-Wallace College in 1955.

GRANT REYNARD, widely-known painter, will present a painting demonstration in Old Main auditorium at 11 a.m. tomorrow.

PAMPHLETS DISTRIBUTED

A "view pamphlet" about Marshall is being distributed to some 15,000 high school seniors in West Virginia by the Office of Development and Alumni Affairs.

The pamphlet will precede the high school visitation teams which visit the colleges throughout the state each year. The pamphlet gives a brief explanation as to what Marshall has to offer a high school graduate along with a short introduction to the college.

Group Will Study Problems In State

By DON FANNIN
Editor - In - Chief

Plans for a Student Government commission, designed to study and inform West Virginia residents of various problems of the state, made initial headway last Wednesday night.

The Student Senate approved the appointment of Bill Wortham, Huntington junior, to head the new commission. The official name of the commission has not been selected yet, but it will probably be called the State Awareness Commission.

According to Wortham, the general purpose of the commission will be to inform West Virginians of some of the state's more serious problems, and to promote interest and concern in the problems.

Wortham said that the new commission will be the largest in the Student Government, requiring a staff of about 75 students, including five committee chairmen.

Wortham will select the five committee chairmen. The rest of the staff will be selected through application.

Committee chairmen probably will be named next week. Staff application forms also will be available next week.

Aside from staffing the commission, the next step is to pick a problem for the commission to study. The problem could be of an educational, political, social or economic nature.

One possible area of study for the commission already has been suggested. It concerns the AEC tests taken by students when entering college. Scores by West Virginia students rank among the lowest in the nation. Wortham said that the commission might study this situation, bringing it to the attention of the citizens, and setting forth possible solutions.

Wortham emphasized that the success of the commission lies in the choice of a problem that is appropriate and can be adequately studied by the commission.

As he sees it, the main function of the commission is to fully study a problem, then inform organizations, and finally to stimulate those organizations into action to solve the problem.

The work of the commission will be handled by five committees. The first of these committees is a Research Committee which will have the responsibility for research into the problem.

The second committee will be a Compilation Committee which will organize the Research committee material.

A third committee will be a Visual Aids Committee, which will supply charts, graphs, etc., necessary to the presentation of study results.

The fourth or Presentation Committee, will present the study material to appropriate organization in the state, either through speaking engagements or written reports.

A final committee, called the Promotion and Publicity Committee, will be responsible for compiling lists of state organizations to which study results should be presented, and for setting up dates for presentation. The committee also will be in charge of securing publicity in the news media of the state.

Wortham said if all goes well, the new commission may be ready to present results of its first study sometime next semester. He said that the big hurdle is to get adequate personnel on the commission staff.

West Virginia University has had a similar commission operating in its Student Government for about two years. According to Wortham, it has become the most important commission on that campus.

Civil Service Meeting Scheduled Tomorrow

Any student interested in a career with the largest employer—the U.S. government—will find a meeting with Civil Service representatives informative.

The Civil Service meeting will be in Room 207 of Old Main at 3 Thursday.

On Oct. 27, D. T. Astry of the Technical Placement Office will interview students for jobs in technical fields.

Students who expect to take advantage of job interviews must be registered with the placement office. No interview will be granted without proper registration.

The "College Placement Annual 1960" is now available for use. It lists over 2000 companies recruiting prospective employees.

Also ready for student use is the "Annual Report of the Placement Office."

A bulletin will be ready every two weeks. It will be posted around campus, and will be in the Placement Office on Mondays. During the busy season it will be published each week. In about two weeks, "Careers for 1960 Annual" will be available to all male seniors.

"If the steel strike ends by January, the outlook for jobs will be excellent," Robert Alexander, director of the Placement Office, said. He also said that even without settlement of the steel strike, seniors will have a very good outlook for job opportunities.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Editor
The Parthenon
Dear Editor,

I think Tom Ross and the entire staff of the Campus Christian Fellowship publication, "Campus Chimes," should be commended for the article "To Defer Or Not To Defer" which appeared in their Oct. 17 edition.

This timely topic should be considered very carefully by all students who are interested in the welfare of Marshall College. A system of deferred rushing is a "must" if we expect to revive the spirit, custom and tradition that is so badly lacking on our campus.

My hope is that this project will be pursued by Tom and his staff, and the staff of the Parthenon. In addition, if those students who expressed their views in the "Campus Chimes" will now express them in the form of immediate action it will go a long way toward a system of deferred rushing at Marshall College.

Bobby Nelson,
Whitesville junior.

Home Economics Club Takes In 17 New Members

The next meeting will be October 27 at 7 p.m. in Northcott 114.

FRENCH CLUB TO MEET

William E. Kingsbury, Huntington sophomore, will speak to the French Club, Le Cercle Francais, Thursday at 3:45 p.m. in 203 Music Hall.

Kingsbury, who spent 14 months at Fontainebleau, France with the armed forces, will show slides to illustrate his talk.

Also on the program will be Mary Lou Varacalli, Logan freshman, who will play a piano solo, "I'll Walk With You".

LANGUAGE MADE SIMPLE: NO. 1

In this day of swift international communications, like radio, television, and the raft, it becomes more and more important to be solidly grounded in foreign languages. Accordingly, I have asked the makers of Philip Morris whether I might not occasionally forego levity in this column and instead use it for a lesson in language.

"Of course, silly!" chuckled the makers of Philip Morris, tousling my yellow locks. Oh, grand men they are, just as full of natural goodness as the cigarettes they make, just as clean and fresh, just as friendly, just as agreeable to have along in all times and climes and places. "Of course, fond boy," laughed the makers and tossed me up and down in a blanket until, giddy with giggling, I bade them desist, and then we all had basins of farina and smoked Philip Morris and sang songs until the campfire had turned to embers.

For our first lesson in language we will take up French. We will approach French in the modern manner—ignoring the tedious rules of grammar and concentrating instead on idiom. After all, when we go to France, what does it matter if we can parse and conjugate? What matters is that we should be able to speak idiomatic conversational French.

So, for the first exercise, translate the following real, true-to-life dialogue between two real, true-to-life Frenchmen named Claude (pronounced Clohd) and Pierre (also pronounced Clohd).

CLAUDE: Good morning, sir. Can you direct me to the nearest monk?

PIERRE: I have regret, but I am a stranger here myself.

CLAUDE: Is it that you come from the France?

PIERRE: You have right.

CLAUDE: I also. Come, let us mount the airplane and return ourselves to the France.

PIERRE: We must defend from smoking until the airplane elevates itself.

CLAUDE: Ah, now it has elevated itself. Will you have a Philippe Maurice?

PIERRE: Mercy.

CLAUDE: How many years has the small gray cat of the sick admiral?

PIERRE: She has four years, but the tall brown dog of the short blacksmith has only three.

CLAUDE: In the garden of my aunt it makes warm in the summer and cold in the winter.

PIERRE: What a coincidence! In the garden of my aunt too!

CLAUDE: Ah, we are landing. Regard how the airplane depresses itself.

PIERRE: What shall you do in the France?

CLAUDE: I shall make a promenade and see various sights of cultural significance, like the Louvre, the Tomb of Napoleon, and the Eiffel Tower... What shall you do?

PIERRE: I shall try to pick up the stewardess.

CLAUDE: Long live the France!

Eight Male Students Are Pledged To ODK, National Honor Society

Eight men have pledged Omicron Delta Kappa, national leadership honor society.

O'Kane was elected president of the class, Cobb is vice-president and Clay is secretary-treasurer.

There are five qualifications for membership in ODK. One must have an exemplary character, be a responsible leader and serve discriminately in campus life, have a superior scholastic record, be in good social standing and consecrated to democratic ideals.

ODK tries to recognize men who have attained a high standard of efficiency in collegiate activities and to inspire others to strive for conspicuous attainments along similar lines.

Membership in ODK is kept at a minimum while the quality of the members is kept on a higher level. Rather than participate in a wide variety of campus activities, ODK concentrates on a limited number of activities such as the annual ODK Variety Show in the spring.

ODK was the first college honor society of a national scope to accord recognition and honor for meritorious leadership and service in extracurricular activities and to encourage the development of general campus citizenship. It is perhaps the most sought after male honor society on campus.

Dave Peters, Bluefield senior is president of ODK, Howard Sutherland, Matewan senior is vice-president and Tim Delrugge, Huntington senior is secretary-treasurer. Dr. Howard Mills, associate professor of botany, is the faculty advisor and Dr. Donald D. Cox, associate professor of science, is the faculty secretary.

Christian Center Plans Meet Approval; Contracts Awarded

The groundbreaking date for the Campus Christian Center will be announced in approximately one week.

The Board of Sponsors passed all preliminary architects' sketches, and money has been borrowed until pledges are met, the Rev. Lander Beal said.

V. E. Childers was awarded the general construction contract on a low bid of $134,000. The electrical contract went to Hawes Electric on a low bid of $12,000 and the plumbing and heating to C. W. Davis on a low bid of $46,000.

Plans for the construction of the building had earlier encountered difficulties when the combination of base bids was too high for the pledge and funds in hand.

The contractors have nine months to complete the building, which will be located at Fifth Avenue and 17th Street.

Total cost of the building, including land costs and architectural fees, is approximately $250,000.

When completed, the center will include a large fellowship area and space for discussion, study and drama groups in addition to the chapel.

The project has been aided by ministers and laymen throughout the area.

Architects for the building are Dean, Dean and Paules of Huntington.

DR. STEELE TO SPEAK

Dr. Richard A. Steele, assistant professor of Political Science, will speak at the International Relations Club meeting Thursday at 4 p.m. on the second floor of the Student Union.

His topic will be "Communist China's Influence and Power in Asia."

Fun Night Set For Tomorrow

The Physical Education Major's Club will sponsor a free fun night tomorrow at 7 p.m. for all physical education majors and those interested in physical education, health and recreation.

This event will serve as a get-acquainted party. Noncompetitive games will be played including ping pong, deck tennis, badminton, golf putting and archery. There also will be folk dancing and singing. Refreshments will be served.

The club will have use of all the physical education facilities, including the gymnasiums. Those attending should wear sports clothing.

During the club's first meeting last Thursday, plans were made for the coming year. A project was discussed. Larry Payne spoke about the main objective of the club, which is to foster concern for progress in health education, physical education and recreation education.

Club officers are Larry Payne, Man senior, president; Movita Ellcessor, Huntington junior, vice president; Sheila Carpenter, Parkersburg sophomore, secretary; Bill Gillespie, Huntington senior, treasurer; and Don Trimboli, Huntington senior, program chairman.

Faculty advisors are Louise McDonough and Dr. Michael Josephs.

EDUCATION HONORARY TO MEET

Kappa Delta Pi, education honorary, will meet Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in North Parlor of Old Main. John Gunter, chairman of the honor system commission, will speak at the meeting on the proposed honor system.

Big Green Lost, But Team Support Evident

SPECTATORS AND STUDENTS come to their feet as the band, in its block "M" formation, plays the Alma Mater during last Saturday's game with Kent State University at Fairfield Stadium.

OTTO "SWEDE" GULLICKSON—Professor of Physical Education, wowed the students at the pep rally last Friday night. "Swede" told the students that he'd never seen better support for the football team than we've had so far this year. About 200 students attended the pep rally.

SATURDAY PROVED a rough day for Coach Charlie Snyder as his team lost 46-7 to Kent State. Although outmanned, the team fought gamely and on even terms with Kent past the first quarter.

Practice Slated For Volleyball

The Women's Intramural volleyball practice schedule for Thursday, Oct. 22, through Monday, Nov. 2, is as follows:

Miss Cordea Elected Newman Club Head

The new officers of the Newman Club are Danilee Cordea, Huntington senior, president; Bob Bailey, Pineville junior, vice president; Barbara Hall, Mullens senior, secretary; and Mary Katherine Hoskins, Huntington sophomore, treasurer.

Club meetings will be held every second and fourth Thursday at 7 p.m. on the second floor of the Student Union.

The club plans to attend Mass in a body the first Sunday of every month at 9:30 at the St. Joseph's Catholic Church. They will have dinner the third Sunday of every month at 6 p.m. at the St. Paul Guild Home, 7th Avenue and 14th Street.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA cheering section, consisting of Lambda Chis and about 30 underprivileged children, turned out for the game Saturday. For the children there was popcorn and cokes and an afternoon which will be remembered for quite a while.

"I DON'T KNOW if my heart will be able to take much more of this" Coach Snyder seems to be saying as Kent State scores another touchdown. There were many such scenes during the 46-7 defeat.

LEON WEEKLEY, Huntington sophomore, drew a burst of cheering from the student section when he displayed a sign advocating university status for Marshall during half-time of the Kent State game. Weekley paraded the sign on both sides of the stadium.

Kent State Defeats Marshall, 46-7

Just Too Many Golden Flashes, Big Green Team Worn Down

By RON HUTCHISON
Sports Editor

Marshall's Big Green dropped its fourth game of the season 46-7 to the Kent State Golden Flashes Saturday.

For two quarters it was an evenly played game. But in the second half, as Kent continued to shuttle in new players, they gradually wore down the undermanned Big Green squad.

The Flashes struck like lightning. Quarterback Dick Mostardo gathered in the initial kickoff and raced 90 yards for the first Kent score.

Given a break by Wilson Lathan's fumble recovery, Marshall drove from the Kent 48-yard line to the one. Fullback Bob Willson dove into the end zone for Marshall's only touchdown. Jim O'Conner kicked the extra point. The Big Green then held a 7-6 lead for a brief time.

Again the Big Green gained the advantage on a fumble recovery. Larry Jarrett pounced on the loose ball at the Kent State 47-yard line. Repeated short yardage gains brought the ball to the 30, but here Marshall returned the ball via the fumble route. As an indication of the type of hard-hitting game played Saturday, each team fumbled three times.

The superior depth of the Golden Flashes began to tell early in the third quarter. It was in this period that Kent added 16 quick points.

When Coach Charlie Snyder was forced to give the Big Green players a rest, Kent then began to move the ball more easily. The steady substituting kept a fresh team in the ballgame while Marshall had to depend on the battle weary starters late in the game.

Marshall had two drives stymied by penalties. On one march the Big Green was hampered by a loss of 25 yards in penalties. The total penalty yardage against Marshall was 95 yards and 80 against Kent.

The statistics showed a more closely played game than the score indicated. In first downs Kent had 20 and Marshall 13. Kent's passing yardage was 49 and Marshall's 25.

The Flashes completed two of seven passes and Marshall's Jim Maddox connected on two of eleven tosses. On several occasions Kent quarterback Mostardo hit his target but the receivers just could not hold the ball. The Big Green pass defense showed a definite weakness by letting the Kent receivers get loose in the Marshall secondary.

This weekend the Big Green gridders travel to Newark, Delaware, to play the University of Delaware Blue Hens. An unbeaten team, Delaware defeated New Hampshire Saturday 50-12.

On The Receiving End

THOMAS SNAGS ONE . . . Halfback Dick Thomas pulls in a pass in last Saturday's game as Kent State's Dick Mostardo gives pursuit. Mostardo made the tackle just short of the goal-line, but the Big Green tallied its only TD moments later.

DOWN YOU GO . . . Marshall's Malcolm Price (22) is attempting to evade two Kent State tacklers during first-quarter action Saturday. Harper Hill (33) is shown in the background.

Van Faussien, White Intramural Champs

By KEITH WALTERS
Sports Writer

Joe Van Faussien, Independent, and Carl White, Pi Kappa Alpha, were named winners in intramural horseshoes and football place-kicking for distance respectively as the result of competition last week.

Van Faussien defeated Curtis Ross, Independent, in the finals of the horseshoe tournament by duplicate scores of 21-16. Thirteen men entered the contest.

White booted the football for a total of 60 yards, topping 151 contestants to win the place kicking title. Runners-up in the kicking contest were Emzy Nicholas, Independent, Richard Thomas, Varsity 'M,' and Allison Layman, Independent. Each of the men kicked the ball for 58 yards.

In intramural volleyball action last week, the Pikes' No. 3 team downed Sigma Phi Epsilon 23-21, while Sigma Alpha Epsilon No. 2 defeated Tau Kappa Alpha 36-15. Other results are as follows: Blue Angels, 22; SAE No. 3, 7; Sig-Eps No. 1, 42; SAE No. 1, 6; Sig-Eps No. 1, 27; Pikes No. 3, 12; and SAE No. 2, 24; Blue Angels, 15.

The Veterans' football team amassed a total of 62 points, while holding Lambda Chi Alpha scoreless in one of the highest scoring grid games this season.

Crossing the goal-line a total of nine times, the Vets tallied twice in the first quarter, three times in the second period and twice in each of the final quarters to garner the victory.

Jack Trainor combined his passing and running skills to pace the Vets to the lop-sided victory.

Trainor started the scoring when he tossed a pass to Gary Watson which was complete for 50 yards and a 6-0 lead. On the extra point attempt, he completed a pass to Tom Kingery.

Trainor connected on five more touchdown passes, three of them being thrown to Ed Lambert. He also completed passes to Kingery and Nelson for TD's.

In another high-scoring game, the Sig-Eps No. 2 team tallied 36 points in rolling to a victory over the Pikes last week. The Pikes tallied only once in the first quarter.

The Sig-Eps No. 1 team captured a 20-0 victory over SAE last week when they put together two touchdowns in the first quarter and another in the final period.

In the only other grid game last week, Kappa Alpha fell at the hands of the Tekes by the score of 18-0. The Tekes tallied in all of the quarters except the third.

Cross Country Team Defeated

Marshall's cross country team dropped its third meet of the season Saturday to Kent State 17-46.

Again it was Charles Szepavsky leading the way for the Big Green. He finished fourth, Tony Russell was 11th and Fred Wagner came in 12th.

Earlier last week the cross country team lost to the University of Kentucky in a dual meet 21-38.

The Wildcat harriers were led by former Huntington High distance runner Keith Locke. Pacing the Big Green was Dave Ryan who placed third. Other Big Green runners and their finishing positions were: Frank Boggs, 4th; Jim Wilson, 9th; Bob Spencer, 10th; and Steve Feola, 12th.

The complete cross country schedule has been announced: Oct. 19, Fairmont State; Oct. 26, Union College; Oct. 31, Fairmont State; and Nov. 7, MAC meet.

Bearcats Claw Little Green

Friday afternoon the Little Green lost its opener to Cincinnati's tough Bearcats 14-6.

The team's score came in the first period on a 40-yard run by fullback Dave Boston, on a play through left guard. Halfback Johnny Skeens attempted the point after touchdown.

Coach Olen Jones said the team did well, but was under pressure and naturally had first game nervousness. He added that "Mistakes were made that could be easily corrected, and must be ironed out before we meet Ohio University". Coach Jones also said the main problem in the game at Cincinnati was the kicking game, which was not up to par.

The team escaped with only one injury, sustained by quarterback Bob Hamlin, who suffered a bruised side. Hamlin is expected to be sidelined for at least one week.

The next game will be against Ohio University, Oct. 30, at two o'clock at Fairfield Stadium.

Birth Of Tradition Occurs At ROTC

Battle Group Officers Given Donated Sabers

A "tradition" was born this week on the Marshall College campus.

But the beginning may go back to Nov. 18, 1885.

The ROTC's Battle Group commander, Cadet Col. Mike O'Kane, a Parkersburg senior, has been presented a saber by Dr. Harold Willey, Dean of Men.

That saber belonged to Army Capt. Jesse W. Penn, a native West Virginian and hero of World War I, who was born Nov. 18, 1885, and died July 8, 1934.

Or perhaps the tradition had its beginning about a year ago. That's when Capt. Maurice D. Rice, assistant professor of military science and tactics, decided to try and outfit the Battle Group officers with Sam Browne belts and sabers. After Captain Rice was transferred, Lt. Col. Thomas M. Ariall, ROTC detachment commander, rolled up his sleeves and went to work.

His first attempts met with little success. The Army no longer issued belts or sabers. Finally he wrote to the Armed Forces Journal. His request for donations was printed last May 23.

Since that time, 32 Sam Browne belts and five sabers have been received at the ROTC.

On June 1, Colonel Ariall received a postcard from Col. Isaac J. Nichol (ret.) of San Leandro, Calif., informing him that three sabers and three belts were being shipped to the college. Through an exchange of letters it was learned that one of the sabers belonged to the late Captain Penn. His widow, Marguerite, married Colonel Nichol four years after her husband's death.

Although Captain Penn was born at Grafton, W. Va., he moved to Parkersburg at an early age. That was his official residence until time of death. The Battle Group commander who will carry the saber also is from Parkersburg.

Captain Penn began his Army career when he enlisted as a private in 1907. His death in 1934 ended 27 years of military service. Part of that career was spent in trenches during World War I. He took part in the Aisne-Marne, St. Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne operations and was awarded the Silver Star and the French Croix de Guerre for gallantry in action.

Captain Penn's saber, now worn by Cadet Colonel O'Kane, will be handed down to succeeding Battle Group commanders. And the link between the past and the present will be even stronger because on two different occasions, Captain Penn was stationed in Huntington on recruiting duty — 1917 and 1921.

While not enough sabers have been collected yet to equip the entire cadet officers' corps, those that have been donated will be handed down to succeeding cadet officers. Colonel Ariall says about 20 more sabers could be used.

And those who wear these sabers and belts will know that behind each one lies a story — even if it remains untold — and a tradition.

From the four corners of the U.S., belts and sabers have arrived. From Maj. Gen. Seth Williams (ret.) of Newport, R.I., one belt; from Brig. Gen. A. E. Wilfong (ret.) of Ogden, Utah, two belts; Maj. Gen. J. M. Willis of Erie, Pa., five belts.

Others who have helped the ROTC are:

Brig. Gen. Henry C. Newton (ret.) of Arlington, Va., two belts; Brig. Gen. F. Whitney Harrington (ret.) of Lake Elmore, Va., three belts; Lt. Col. Harold E. Beaty of the U.S. Corps of Engineers, Huntington district, a saber; Lt. Col. Albert H. Smith Jr. of Carlisle Barracks, Pa., one belt; Walter E. Hunt of Springfield, Va., one belt; Capt. David C. Thatcher of Mineral Wells, Tex., one belt; Lt. Col. A. E. Mealiff of Chicago, Ill., two belts and spurs; Col. E. V. H. Bell (ret.) of Avalon, N. J., one belt; Col. A. L. Parmelee (ret.) of Los Altos, Calif., one belt; Lt. Col. George Zalkan, now stationed overseas, two belts and chain; Lt. Col. H. H. Starker of San Antonio, Tex., one belt; Atty. C. E. Mitchell of Pawnee, Okla., two belts and a saber; Charles F. Burril (USA, ret.) of Mississippi City, Miss., one belt; Col. Richard S. Fixott of the AF Academy, Colo., one belt; Maj. Leon C. Patterson of Attica, N.Y., one belt, and Dr. A. E. McCaskey Jr., professor of engineering, Marshall College.

This is how a tradition begins.

Saber Presented To Battle Group Commander

DR. HAROLD WILLEY, Dean of Men, presents saber to Battle Group commander, Cadet Col. Mike O'Kane, Parkersburg senior. The saber, belonging to an Army captain who died in 1934, will be handed down to succeeding Battle Group commanders. Other sabers, donated to the ROTC, also will be worn by Battle Group officers.

Pep Rally Draws More Than 200

Enthusiasm 'Best In 30 Years;' President Smith Dons Sweatshirt

"This campus has more enthusiasm on it this year than at any time during the past 30 years," shouted Otto "Swede" Gullickson, professor of physical education.

His statement drew a rousing cheer from over 200 students attending the pep rally last Friday night.

Gullickson said he could not remember when a Marshall football team had gotten such active support from the student body.

Earlier, a sweatshirt-clad President Stewart H. Smith had also commended the students for their support, and had urged them to demonstrate their loyalty to the college in everything they did.

President Smith addressed the students in an emotionally charged speech that saw him on tiptoes, with fists clenched throughout. He wore a sweatshirt marked "Marshall, 1940."

Most of the students also sported "Marshall" sweatshirts in a variety of styles and colors.

The sweatshirt campaign caused a "sweat" at the bookstore, as a sudden demand forced the bookstore to order an additional 30 dozen sweatshirts to meet the emergency. About 300 of them, selling for $2.55 each, were sold.

A combination of trumpets and bass drum furnished the musical entertainment at the pep rally.

Coach Charlie Snyder thanked the students for their support of the Big Green, saying that the send-off given the team prior to the Western Michigan game "carried over" into the Toledo game the next Saturday.

Co-Captains Jim Maddox and Jim O'Conner were asked to speak to the crowd, Maddox, although "speechless," again thanked the students for their support of the team. O'Conner said that he would leave the speechmaking to someone better qualified than he.

After a number of "fifteen rah's" for the team, the pep rally closed with a knock-down, drag out snake dance around the bonfire.

Most everyone present seemed to be impressed with the turnout for the rally and its handling by the Robe. The spirit of the rally carried over for the Kent State game Saturday afternoon.

Although the attendance at the game was not too heavy, those present made up for it in the strength of their cheering.

The pandemonium that resulted when the Big Green took a 7-6 lead in the first quarter kept the cheering section "alive" throughout the game.

With the absence of the Greenbackers card section, the cheerleaders and majorettes led the comparatively small crowd in the cheering antics.

Attired in sweatshirts and "denbies" the Veterans' Club loudly proclaimed their presence. Sounding the charge with bugles and in general "whoopin' it up," the Vets made up in spirit for what they lacked in numbers.
